After a thorough investigation made by Prof. D'Oge of State University, of our High School, its mode of instruction and its courses of study, and its actual merit as a literary institution, the Faculty of the University have voted to admit to the Literary course any graduate who may apply without examination. It would seem that the fame of the teachers in the Owosso Schools is not confined to this section, and their record must stand high, for Prof. Sill, Supt. of the Public Schools of Detroit, spent a day here recently, to see if he could not gobble up some of the best of our teachers for the Detroit work. How well he succeeded we do not know, but we do know that Owosso ought not to let them go under any circumstances.

Williams & Hartshorn have just ordered another full car load of Buckeye Cord Binders nearly all of which are already sold. This makes the fourth car load of Buckeye machines shipped this season from the factory at Akron, Ohio, to this enterprising firm and there is no doubt but they will want still another car. The Buckeye seems to be the favorite in this locality as it is wherever known and properly represented. The best will always win.

On Friday night of last week the stores of Messrs. Duff, Parkhill, and Druggan were entered by burglars. In each the change was taken, such as was left over in the money drawers, and all the cigars the rascals could lay their hands upon, amounting to quite a sum in their aggregate value. These fellows were evidently professional burglars and had probably carefully inspected the premises plundered, in advance. Our citizens will do well to see to it that their stores and other places of business are properly closed at night, their "small change" safely deposited, and so far as practicable have a man sleep in their business places who knows how, and will not hesitate to feed all such scamps with cold lead pills ad infinitum.

The manufacture of brick and drain tile is one of the business industries of this city that is paying, both to the proprietors and the public, and hence commands considerable attention. Realizing these facts, on Wednesday morning we strolled over to the yard of Messrs. Parker & Belford, situated a little east and south of the Junction depot. These men began business here in 1874 with an old fashioned hand machine, capable of turning out a few hundred brick in a day. Now they have the largest and latest improved machines, one of which is driven by steam, a good 25 horse power engine, and manufacture 30,000 brick a day. Last year they manufactured about 900,000. This season thus far they have burned one kiln of 140,000, are burning another of 250,000, and have another kiln nearly ready to burn 250,000, and probably 150,000 on the yard. They have sold and shipped 40,000 to Gaines, and have a contract to furnish parties in Lansing with 1,000,000, which with enough to fill their local orders will call for the manufacture, this season, of at least, one and a half millions. Besides they expect to manufacture at an early day, a kiln of drain tile varying in size from 2 to 8 inches in diameter. They employ on an average 20 men, and consume annually several hundred cords of wood, employ about their works several fine horses, and have work enough to keep them all busy. Such enterprises are a blessing to any place, and we note the merited success of Messrs. Parker & Belford with unalloyed satisfaction.

The funeral of Mrs. Bemiss, wife of L. S. Bemiss, of the firm of L. E. Gould & Co., was held in the Baptist Church on Thursday morning, Rev. Mr. Holmes, of Adrian, officiating.

Wool, this season, does not command as high a price, as it was supposed it would. For this there are two reasons: First the high price of provisions, which largely increases the cost of manufacturing with no material advance in the price of the goods manufactured. Second, a recent tariff decision admitting knit goods at a much lower rate than has heretofore been charged. These facts farmers should understand.

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swine's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, Necessity is the mother of Invention.

In Memoriam.

At a regular meeting of Owosso Lodge, No. 88, I. O. O. F., held on Friday evening, June 10th, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted. Bro. Giles had long been a member of the order here, and was regarded as one of the true exponents of the principles of Odd Fellowship. He died at Grand Rapids May 29th mourned by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

WHEREAS, The Supreme Ruler of the Universe has called from this life to another, our respected and worthy brother, A. W. Giles, in the vigor of his age, while still the beams of manhood's morning were shining on his brow; Thus breaking another link in the chain of our immediate brotherhood, and adding one more to the great Lodge of eternity. Resolved, Therefore, by Owosso Lodge, No. 88, I. O. O. F., in council assembled, that though his ways are not our ways, and are past finding out, yet we bow in humble and sorrowful submission to the divine dispensation which removes our brother from us.

Resolved, That in the demise of our brother, our Lodge has lost an honorable and worthy member; his family a good husband and father, and community a good citizen.

Resolved, That his widow and wife and fatherless child, we extend our warmest sympathy in their deep affliction, and earnestly commend them to the care of Him who governs and controls all things.

Resolved, That this hall be draped in mourning for thirty days in honor of his memory.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Lodge, and that an official copy be forwarded to the family of the deceased brother, and one copy each to THE TIMES and Owosso Press and Shiawassee American office, for publication.

H. L. LEWIS, A. ROBERTSON, Committee.

Mr. F. P. Bonner, of Meadville, Pa., writes: "I feel like a new-born creature. Transformed from a crabby dyspeptic and nervous sufferer to a robust, strong, healthy man, it all seems like a dream, yet Brown's Iron Bitters did it. I feel very kindly toward everybody, especially to the inventors of so good a medicine."

Statistics of Lunatic Asylums show that nine-tenths of their patients are brought to their condition by abuse of the generative organs. A great Brain and Nerve food, known as Magnetic Medicine, is sold by our druggists, and comes highly recommended as an unfailing cure in all these diseases. See the advertisement in another column.

Our Buckeye friends in their last effort state they cannot "after careful perusal of our article of last week discover the facts we claim to make." After carefully glancing over their article we can see the above statement made by them is false—because they go right on in their deceitful manner to misstate what we say and change our meaning. We claim we have in Mr. James A. Chapin (whose place of business is in the first brick store south of the National Hotel, Owosso, Mich.) an honorable, responsible, local agent; one who will not stoop to deceptive, under-handed ways to sell the farmers anything he can buy cheap. As for McCormick's "Understrappers," whom they choose to talk so much about, there is not one of them hired by W. F. Cowhan, General Agent, because we have got a smart brother at Lansing upon whom we might call for "brains" in case of necessity. We came with no light-toned title (general agent) we never had any ambition to become "Supreme Ruler" and "Controller" of the trade in a few stump counties. We come to you simply as "Understrappers" (as you choose to call us) with the McCormick Binder to sell. McCormick Harvesting Machine Co., and James A. Chapin to guarantee that our promises and agreements shall be lived up to. It is useless for us to assume to be what we are not in order to make sales. They talk a great deal about Lewis Miller—who is this Lewis Miller? Oh, I know now—he is the very man that last year said they had the best "twine binder in the world," but knows more about it now than he did then—he knows it was a failure. He is the same man, who, after their binder proved a failure, heard of the McCormick, went and bought the right to use some parts like the McCormick, and the only reason he now has for thinking his binder a success is because some parts of it are like the McCormick, and he knows the McCormick was a success.

They say, "We claim that since 1877 we have had the most perfect Harvester and Binder in existence." Where have they kept it? Oh, I know now, they carry the photograph of it in their pockets, but never put them in the field. Farmers, do not be deceived by such talk; they never have had a successful twine binder, second year. We again say no man this side of Texas ever saw their binder cut and bind a bundle. They say they can "refer you to hundreds of farmers in Michigan and adjoining states who have used the Buckeye Binder." McCormick Understrappers will give you one hundred dollars ($100) for each man's name who ever owned the Buckeye Twine Binder in Michigan; also will give the same amount for every man's name (agent included) in Michigan, who ever saw one work. Fearing they may be unable to see the facts we wish understood, we will make especial mention of a few.

We claim we know where the "fool killer" would commence his work among machine men.

We claim you try to deceive the farmers of Shiawassee Co., by saying you have an old, tried and tested self binder.

We claim that you talk one thing to a farmer and write something different and get him to sign it.

We claim you have tried to sell your experiment upon the reputation of the old reliable McCormick.

We claim that some one should respond to your frantic appeal to "bring you some one who has got some brains."

We claim you have filled McCormick orders with Buckeye goods.

We claim no man in Michigan or this side of Texas ever saw your binder work.

We claim you never had a successful twine binder.

We claim that the McCormick never was beaten in a field trial in Michigan, and it had 13 last year.

We claim that we have used or will sue your company for infringement.

We claim you dare not put your binder in the field with ours and let the farmer take his choice.

We claim you know some "General Agent" has a brother at Lansing who has some brains.

We will give one hundred dollars for each man's name you can furnish that has used your twine binder, and you claim to the farmers you can refer them to hundreds of them.

We trust that after "careful perusal" you can find some fact upon which to base a reply.

With regard to your statement of our "receiving an over dose of ammonia," I would say, if this is the case, ammonia, like your deceitful ways, will soon evaporate and lose its strength—it cannot bear exposure.
